

The Canopy Palace.

WHOOOOAA!!

Queens really
get to live in huge houses
on the treetops like this?!

Hahaha,
well, it's not just a
big house, honey.

A lot of people
work here too, and there's a temple for the sheep's branch
of life in the back, see it?

...Is it always this tense though?

No, you'll have to forgive
us for the tight
security right
now.

My men have been on edge since
last month's "monster"
incident in the residential district.

Oh yeah,
I think I heard
about that...
Some Feral
busted through a
few shops, right?

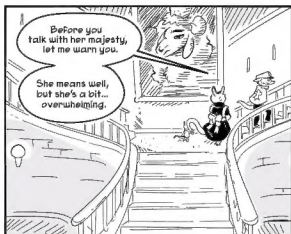

Yes,
unfortunately.
But you
shouldn't need to worry about that.

Take these temporary
VIP tags.

No one short of the queen herself will be allowed to harass you
if you flash these.

...Well geez,
I better hope she didn't invite us here to harass us then.

I don't need a tag to tell me how important I am.

UGH!!

Are you alright?

Yes, I was able to warp her halfway to Fauna before she slipped away from me.

She won't be back for a while.

I'd better move the key to a more secure location.

Just to be safe.

We should consider ourselves fortunate she wasn't actively trying to kill you this time.

Yes. Poor Gustaff.

He was a good man.

How are we supposed to keep this From Daring?

I've just the thing to help.

Reviva?

No, dead is dead, I'm afraid.

But if it's recent, I can still catch bits of his soul.

We'll just take whatever's left and bind it to his body for now.

It's not ideal, but it should be fine as long as he doesn't realize he's dead.

...And what do we do about the witnesses?

Oh, don't worry about that.

I know how to get children to keep secrets.

And the mother?

Who, Poppy? She's just having a dream.

Poppy, wake up.

Isn't that right, Iron Matron?

POPPY!
